CITY OF INDIANAPOLIS – OFFICE OF THE MAYOR

Addendum to Economic Statement of Interest

April 26, 2023

Section 293-323(c) of the Municipal Code of the City of Indianapolis provides that every Official, including the Mayor, must provide a list of each item of entertainment, food, drink, honoraria, travel expenses, and/or registration fees accepted by the Official from a person who has a business relationship with any agency that is over $100 and is not exempted from the ordinance's gift rule under Section 293-201(b). I have not personally accepted such a gift. The information below is provided in the interest of transparency.

I am honored to occasionally receive mementos from Indianapolis' wonderful neighborhood, community, and business organizations as I travel throughout our City in support of their good work. I am proud to display these mementos throughout the Mayor's Office and the City-County Building as a reminder of those we serve.

The City is provided, without taxpayer expense, a suite and tickets to sports facilities maintained by the Capital Improvement Board. The City often provides these tickets to philanthropic groups, community and corporate organizations, and city employees to enjoy, and I occasionally join them in support of their work.

In addition, I attend various events in support of our city's economic development efforts. These events include representing our city at many of our professional and amateur sporting events, such as games of the Indianapolis Colts, Indiana Pacers, Indianapolis Indians, Indiana Fever, Indy Fuel, Indy Eleven, and, of course, our various high school and college teams. Specifically in 2022, I traveled to Tennessee for an economic development event hosted by the Indy Chamber of Commerce, and I visited Oakland, California, where I joined several Indiana lawmakers and community leaders in learning about educational and talent-development efforts in that city.

I am also honored to attend many events in support of various community, cultural, fine arts, and non-profit organizations, such as the Indianapolis Shakespeare Company, the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, the Indiana Repertory Theatre, the Indianapolis Ballet, the Indianapolis Opera, the Phoenix Theatre, Dance Kaleidoscope, and many others.
